Principal Adverse Impacts

A Principal Adverse Impact (“PAI”) is any impact of investment decisions or advice that results in a negative effect on sustainability factors, such as environmental, social and employee concerns, respect for human rights, anti-corruption, and anti-bribery matters. At the heart of the SFDR is the concept of identifying and disclosing whether and how a financial product (including a fund) considers principal adverse impacts (PAIs) on sustainability factors.

The SFDR Delegated Regulation defines 18 mandatory PAI indicators and at least 2 indicators from 46 additional voluntary indicators that financial market participants are required to report on, when considering Principal Adverse Impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors. These indicators can be used, in whole or in part, to measure the PAI on sustainability factors of investments in financial products.
